Crossing Atlantic under canvas

A MAIDENHEAD man who started sailing on the gravel pit off Summerleaze Rd will soon be crossing the Atlantic under canvas.

Peter Taylor (24), of March House, Talbots Drive, flew out to the West Indies last week to join Mike Proto, owner and skipper of the £4 million Swan 46 class Yacht Serendipity. The five-man crew will sail the 47ft. boat up to St. Barthelemy and leave Antigua for the 3,500 mile voyage to Majorca via the Azores. The journey is expected to take 31 days.

Peter, whose longest voyage has been a matter of 30 miles, got the chance to join Serendipity's crew by answering an advertisement in the Daily Telegraph. There were a lot of applicants, but Mike Proto took him on the strength of a telephone conversation.

"It's a real challenge - I've been lucky to be able to go," said Peter.

He has recently been studying mining engineering at the Camborne School of Mining, Cornwall, where he obtained his HND followed by a degree. After completion of the Atlantic adventure, he hopes to work on one of the offshore oil rigs north of Aberdeen.

Surprise party for golden wedding

ON Saturday evening, Eric and Kit Deane, of Halifax Close, Maidenhead, believed they were on their way to their son Michael's house, to celebrate his 17th wedding anniversary. To their surprise, they found themselves surrounded by friends and relations, celebrating their own golden wedding.

Mrs. Deane said: "It was such a well kept secret. We had no idea."

About 60 people crammed into 71 Cadwell Drive, Maidenhead, and Mr. Deane said: "As people began to dance, the walls of the house were bursting at the seams."

Mr. and Mrs. Deane's five grandchildren were present, the three youngest, Steve, Lucy and Clare, bearing banners saying 'Happy Golden Day.' Mrs. Deane said: "It is a day we will never forget." Their house is overflowing with flowers, presents and cards marking the occasion.

The Deanes, who have lived in Maidenhead for 52 years, met while Mrs. Deane was working for Marks & Spencer. They both agreed they "hit it off" from the moment they met, and within 15 months they were married at Maidenhead Register Office on April 19, 1936.

Steven's new chess title

Mrs. Deane remembers the ceremony well. She said: "I was looking around at all the people, and in my excitement, knocked Eric on the nose with the brim of my hat... that was the beginning of our marriage."

The reception was held at a friend's house in Fielding Rd, Maidenhead. They didn't have a honeymoon. Mrs. Deane said: "We couldn't afford it in those days. I only got paid 32s. 6d."

They led busy working lives. Mrs. Deane left Marks & Spencer to work for 19 years at a bakers in King St, Maidenhead, and then a ladies underwear store. She retired at the age of 72 and said: "I'd still be working now if I could get a job."

Mr. Deane was a self-employed carpenter, and retired five years ago. He still has a part-time job as a cleaner at Maidenhead Town Hall.

Both agreed the secret of a successful marriage is "give and take." Mrs. Deane said: "Marriage is something you've got to work at. We do, and have been very happy."

Steven Foister with his Southern Counties Chess Championship cup.

A YOUNG Desborough School pupil, Steven Foister, has won the under 16 years Southern Counties Chess Championship.

Steven (15) of St. Margaret's Rd, Maidenhead, played about six matches during three days in the tournament at the Barbican arts centre, London.

He won the under 12 title four years ago and throughout his nine-year chess playing career has notched up an impressive record of 30 to 40 wins.

Steven commented: "It was quite a tough competition, I did not get home until midnight one evening. I was not particularly nervous because I knew some of the competitors from other contests."

Chess tournaments take up most of Steven's time. As a member of Maidenhead Chess Club and both the adult and junior teams of the Berkshire 1st Chess teams, he plays two to three games during the week and at weekends. He has also been a member of the school chess team.

Although Steven's parents, Pam and Mike, encourage their son's interest, neither are keen competitive players. He gained his initial interest from his older brother Greg, who also attends Desborough.

Since then, he has gone from strength to strength although he has no plans as yet to become a master chess player and take on the top players.

Language no barrier to justice

INEVITABLY magistrates who dispense justice in our local courts have to deal with many surprising situations. Frequently, hidden talents come to public notice, as a result.

On Tuesday, the problem was an accused man with French Christian names and a Spanish surname. As he did not seem to understand when asked to plead, the Chairman of the Bench (Mrs. Rosemary Thomson) asked what was his native language.

On being told, she explained in fluent German, and elicited a guilty plea, remarking: "And I'm not doing any more of that!"

But at the end, she was required to interpret the nature of the fine and points penalty, imposed for driving without due care.

So, instead of requesting: "Next case," she said: "Next language, please."
